QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — A military government that replaced hard-drinking President Carlos Arosemena pledged today to crack down hard on pro-Castro Communist terrorist bands roaming this little South American nation.

The governing Junta, headed by navy Capt. Ramon Castro Jijon, proclaimed martial law and a curfew and established a strict censorship.

Three persons — two soldiers and a civilian — were killed and 17 injured Thursday in a shooting affray outside the presidential palace when troops and tanks moved in to back up the military demand that Arosemena quit. He was accused of being drunk and disorderly on repeated occasions and a sympathizer with communism.

Troops quickly broke up anti-army demonstrations and this morning.

Arosemena was put on a plane Thursday night and sent to Panama.

A military spokesman said Arosemena, a known tippler, disgraced himself by getting drunk at a banquet Wednesday night in honor of the president of the Grace Lines, retired U.S. Adm. Wilfred McNeil.

Guests at the reception said the president shouted abuse at U.S. Ambassador Maurice Bernbaum, vomited in front of the gathering and committed "even more indecorous acts."

Thursday morning the chiefs of the three armed branches met with the commander of the Quito garrison and decided to depose Arosemena. Eight tanks and truckloads of soldiers surrounded the presidential palace about 2 p.m.

Arosemena refused to resign and named his brother Gustavo as defense minister in an effort to rally the armed forces against the uprising. Friends of the 44-year-old president who were in the besieged palace said he was still drunk.

The situation remained in doubt for several hours until provincial commanders began to send messages of support for the rebel chiefs.

In the Pacific Ocean port of Guayaquil, 170 miles southwest of Quito, there were a few attempts to organize street demonstrations in favor of Arosemena, but all were broken up. Some machine-gun volleys were fired into the air.

A military spokesman said Arosemena resigned after receiving guarantees for his personal safety and that of his family.

The junta said elections would be held as soon as possible and that it had received messages of support from all political parties and all units of the armed forces.

The military sent Arosemena to Panama aboard an Ecuadorian Air Force plane. He said on his arrival in Panama "I have not resigned," and went to a hotel without further comment. Ecuadorian army officers accompanying him said he would inform Panamanian authorities whether he planned to stay or push onward.

There were various reports on the makeup of the junta. One broadcast said Col. Andres Arrata Macias was at the head with three other colonels as members. Another broadcast identified the service chiefs—Army Col. Luis Cabrera Sevilla, Navy Capt. Ramon Pastro Jijon and Air Force Col. Guillermo Freile Posso — as leaders of the revolt.

How to Feast With Panthers

As Christine Proved, It's Dangerous

(First of four dispatches)

By TOM A. CULLEN

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

CHRISTINE KEELER

LONDON — (NEA) — "There isn't such a thing as love," scoffed Christine Keeler, the young party girl whose escapades have rocked the British government and threaten to unseat its prime minister.

"It makes me laugh when I hear people moaning about broken love affairs," said this auburn-haired lovely.

This is a pathetic admission coming as it does from the girl whose affair with War Minister John Profumo has given Britain one of its biggest political scandals.

Her inability to love is a serious flaw in Christine's character. It has made her a moral cripple. The gay, party girl companion of cabinet ministers and aristocrats is, in reality, a tragic figure, in the opinion of many here.

"Each of us destroys the thing he loves," wrote Oscar Wilde, but Christine, by her own admission, destroyed men without ever having known what it is to love.

Again, Oscar Wilde wrote, referring to his associations with the dregs of society, "It was like feasting with panthers — the danger was half the excitement."

The Soviets have been quick to explore that half-world in which British politicians and bluebloods enjoy feasting with panthers. Sex and espionage now go hand in hand. Call girl's can be a menace to national security, as the Profumo scandal has indicated.

That is why Christine Keeler and her story are of interest to both America's Central Intelligence Agency and to MI5, which is Britain's counterespionage agency.

Frozen Goddess, Siren, Enigma, Femme Fatale—these are some of the tags which have been attached to Christine Keeler. What is the real Christine like?

DR. WARD: Like brother and sister.

"When I first met her," said Jamaican singer Lucky Gordon, one of her lovers, "she was asking the waitress in a cafe where she could get some Indian hemp (marijuana). Right away I wanted to know her."

Lucky Gordon may now regret that he ever set eyes on Christine for in June he was sentenced to three years' imprisonment for assaulting her in a jealous rage.

Other men too, have wanted to know Christine, to their regret. For Christine lives recklessly; she thrives on danger.

In addition, members of the Royal Family have been dragged into the scandal by virtue of Profumo's position as a Minister of the Crown.

Also, Christine's "very good friend" Dr. Stephen Ward is well-known to the Royal Household, he having made sketches of Prince Philip and Princess Margaret.

Altogether, Christine, the girl who was born on the wrong side of the railroad tracks and who was slinging hash in a Soho cafe only four years ago, has left a fantastic path of destruction.

Not surprisingly, the long-limbed, ginger-haired Christine is the product of a broken home. Her parents, having separated when she was only 3 months old. With her mother she went to live in a converted railway carriage among the "river rats" of the Thames-side town of Wraybury.

At school Christine was always getting in trouble, such as the time she was caught smoking on the school grounds. She enjoyed herself more in the company of boys, climbing trees with them and swimming in the gravel pits.

Christine quit school at the age of 15 and began a series of jobs as typist, waitress, model. She also began to date American airmen at an air base near Staines.

S. Viet Nam Mess Rivals China's Fall

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge is walking into a mess, one of the most dismal since the United States tried to help Chiang Kai-shek save China from the Communists.

President Kennedy recently appointed him ambassador to South Viet Nam.

From 1946 until 1951 the colonialist French tried to smash the Reds in Indochina. By 1951 they were doing so badly, militarily and financially, the United States had to bail them out, or try to.

No good. The French quit in 1954. The Communists got half of Indo-China. Then the United States moved in and supported President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam.

From 1954 until now this country has pumped in another $2.5 billion, plus 12,000 troops to help Diem and train his troops. So far 84 Americans have been killed in action or in non-combatant activities. What's the result?

No end to the war is in sight. Communist guerrillas are not only still fighting but now Diem is up to his neck with South Vietnamese Buddhists, who make up 80 percent of the population and are growing increasingly angry.

Thursday Malcolm W. Browne, Associated Press correspondent in Saigon, reported that U.S. officials believe South Viet Nam could be plunged into civil war and chaos if tensions between the Buddhists and Diem increase.

The Buddhists complain they are discriminated against by Diem and most of his top advisers who, like Diem, are Roman Catholics. Diem is a dictator, and a hard-headed one.

His country, about the size of New England, has 14.5 million people. Most of them live under primitive conditions.

It was recognized in Washington years ago that Diem needed to put in many reforms to give the people social, economic and political justice if they were to be persuaded to prefer his regime to the Communists.

(The United States faced the same problem after World War II with Chiang, who operated as a war lord while fighting Communists who promised reforms. Despite all the American help poured into him, the Communists drove him out.)

In the fall of 1961 President Kennedy's military adviser, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, went to South Viet Nam, looked around, came back. Then on Dec. 16, 1961, so-called "informed sources" in the Kennedy administration said:

The United States and South Viet Nam had agreed on a dozen new steps—including the reforms mentioned above to make increased American aid more effective. That's just about the last ever heard of the reforms.

About seven months after the "informed sources" painted their rosy picture in Washington, Homer Bigart of the New York Times, having finished a half year in South Viet Nam, wrote:

"The issue remains in doubt. The Vietnamese president seems incapable of winning the loyalty of his people. Washington decided it was too risky to prop Diem publicly. Efforts to obtain major political and social reforms were quietly dropped."

Another half year later — in February, 1963—Richard Dudson of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch reported on South Viet Nam. Taking aim at President Diem, his "adviser" brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, and the brother's wife, the trio which runs the country, Dudson said:

"They are undemocratic, self-righteous, unpopular, cunning, clannish, repressive, and inclined to label anyone who criticizes them a Communist or a tool of the Communists."

There had been charges of crooked dealings by Diem's sister-in-law and that she was building up a fortune in foreign banks. AP's Browne asked her about the charges and said she replied:

"The family had always been wealthy and didn't need money that she was much more interested in power."

Late last month a dozen prominent Protestant, Jewish and Buddhist religious leaders in this country assailed what they called the persecution of Buddhists in South Viet Nam. On top of this, American newsmen were manhandled by Diem's secret police.

Thursday Ambassador Frederick E. Nolting, returning to South Viet Nam for the last time before turning his job over to Lodge, said the United States stands for freedom of religion and the press. This was reported from Saigon as Continued on Page Three

Shrine to March in Hope July 27; Order Patterned After an Arabian Musical

By MARY ANITA LASETER

For the first time since 1948 a Shrine ceremonial will be held in Hope July 27. Red fezzes will be a common sight in our community on that day, when a large contingent of members of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America and their ladies stage a friendly invasion.

Despite its name, this organization is "as American as apple pie." The major resemblance to Middle Eastern culture is in its names of its Temples, its glamorous pagantry, its colorful ceremonial and parade costumes, and its return to early history for its ritualistic lessons.

Mystery and uncertainty shroud the formation of all secret societies, and the Mystic Shrine is certainly no exception. Since considerable showmanship is necessary for the establishment of such an order, it goes without saying that the two men who conceived the idea of the Shrine were quite capable in that regard.

Actor Billy Florence believed Shakespeare had been right in declaring "the world's a stage," and Dr. Walter M. Fleming could have earned a good livelihood as a juggler and magician. To these two men goes the credit for conceiving the idea of the Mystic Shrine, as well as for making it a reality. They were born in New York state in the 1830's and met at a Masonic lunch club in New York City.

Dr. Fleming was completing his higher degree work in Masonry at the time, and he had an urge to establish a playground for Masons where only those who had completed the Scottish Rite or York Rite work would be eligible. What he had in mind was something in which good fellowship would abound while also being impressive. He discussed the idea with Florence, hoping to obtain from the master showmen some tips for a name and a ritual.

On a European trip a few months later in Marseilles, France, Florence was invited by a banker to a party given by an Arabian diplomat. The entertainment was on the order of an elaborately staged musical comedy, and the guests became members of a secret society at its conclusion. "Why, this was made to order," Florence realized. He made notes and obtained a copy of the script, reportedly written in Arabic.

Here, at least, was the basic idea he needed.

How the name, Ancient Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, was concocted we aren't sure. But it isn't hard to imagine two such expert showmen as Florence and Dr. Fleming pulling something like that out of their hats.

Hats? Well, maybe fezzes would be a better term. You see, the fez, which Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of North America have the privilege and honor of wearing, has been handed down through the ages as one of the most significant of all head-dresses. The fez derives its name from the place where it was first manufactured commercially—the holy city of Fez, in Morocco.

Some historians say the fez dates back to about A. D. 980, but the name fez or tarboosh doesn't appear in Arabic literature until around the 14th Century. One of the earliest references to the headgear was in "Arabian Nights."

Another symbol of the Shrine is the Crescent which was adopted as the Jewel of the Order. In forming the Crescent the most valuable and sought-after materials were the claws of a Royal Bengal Tiger. These were united at their bases in a gold setting. In the center was the head of a sphinx, on the back of which was a pyramid, urn and star. The Jewel bore the motto in Arabic, "Kuwait wa Ghadah," the English translation of which is "Strength and Fury."

In the Orient, the crescent has had religious significance for ages, and in Turkey and Persia, it also had political connotations. The ancients looked to the East for light and intelligence and found it in the crescent.

One of the earliest to admit the East as his source of knowledge was Plato. The crescent, of course, was merely a symbol referring to a higher and purer source, source. And it has remained such ever since.

Downtown Industry Tour Next

Hope Chamber of Commerce will again urge businesses and citizens to show their appreciation for local manufacturing plants. Last week a small group toured the Klipsch-Horn plant, Standard Generator, Arkansas Tank and Boat, Ram Wood, and Graydon Anthony & Sons.

Those who made the tour were impressed and came away with a greater appreciation of what local industries meant to all.

This week the tour will leave 2nd and main at 10 a. m. Wednesday touring Hope Brick works at 10:05 a. m. Arkansas Machine Specialty at 10:25 a. m. and Hope Wire Products at 10:45 a. m. These are all close to the downtown area and will require only a minimum of time and travel. It is hoped a minimum of 50 will make this tour.

One more tour will be conducted on July 24. The woodworking plants will be visited on one tour during forest products week in October.

Electrified Heart Saves Man's Life

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Norman Howard "died" five times before he got a mechanical lease on life.

That lease is a battery-powered device in the abdomen of the 53-year-old Maryville businessman. The lifesaver is connected by wires to two tiny electrodes sewed to the muscles of Howard's heart. It steps up his heartbeat and compensates for a fault in the heart impulses.

The beginning of what might have been the end for Howard was last April 9.

He came home from a day of fishing, took a hot bath and, as he prepared for bed, noticed his heart pounding. Short of breath, he checked his pulse.

"The way I counted it, my pulse beat was 40 to the minute," he said. "Sounded slow to me." The normal beat is 68 to 70.

Next day Howard saw a doctor. There was no evidence of heart attack or heart damage.

"But there's something wrong," the doctor said. "We're going to have to put you in the hospital."

"I started to protest," Howard recalled. "Now? I never felt better in my—right there I collapsed."

His heart was stilled. After long moments, the doctor stirred it to activity again by a powerful chemical, isoproterenol hydrochloride.

Howard, the doctor says, "died" briefly three more times during the next 20 days in a hospital.

When it seemed the attacks were easing, Howard returned home. Two days later he had his fifth brush with oblivion.

"I thought he was gone," said his wife, a former X-ray technician. "We rushed him to University Hospital in Knoxville, the doctor giving him isuprel (isoproterenol hydrochloride) through the veins all the way—and that's quite a trick in an ambulance."

At this point, doctors decided to use the Pacemaker, the electrical heartbeat regulator.

Howard's heart was attached to its mechanical companion May 16. He plans to return to work next week.

Rails Panel Is Scheduled for Week of Work

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's blue ribbon rails panel has drawn up a busy work schedule for next week amid increasing signs that legislation is the only way to avert a nationwide strike.

The six-man committee, which spent Thursday and Friday getting organized, gave no definite sign today that any of its individual members may step in as mediator in another try at ironing out the four-year-old dispute over new work rules.

The members were not selected for a mediation function, the chairman, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, has pointed out.

The function is primarily fact-finding to help the President draw up legislation to be recommended to Congress by July 22, Wirtz has emphasized.

A government official made it clear that with the carriers and the five operating unions as adamant as they are, there seems to be little hope for any settlement other than through legislation.

The committee will pursue its task under the strike truce arranged by President Kennedy Wednesday. Under that agreement the carriers have postponed until July 29 putting into effect new work rules designed to eliminate gradually upwards of 60,000 jobs and the unions have said they will delay strike action until that date.

The committee has taken a weekend break, leaving half-dozen Labor and Commerce Department specialists to iron out operational procedures.

The panel will resume sessions Monday with representatives of the carriers and the unions summoned for quizzing on any issues that may arise.

Tuesday, a similar session will be held—first with all concerned taking part, then the committee meeting with each side separately.

Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds said that Wednesday the committee will begin preparing its report to the President. Reynolds said it is hoped that the job will be finished by Friday, three days in advance of Kennedy's deadline for the fact-finding job.

The administration has avoided giving any hint of what Kennedy's recommendations will be, but some sources have indicated the remedy will involve some form of arbitration.

If it is arbitration the onus for eliminating rail jobs thus would be taken off union leaders, who could place the responsibility on Congress. The unions have said repeatedly they oppose any form of compulsory arbitration.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president and a member of the committee, who earlier had made certain with Wirtz that individual members would be permitted to mediate on their own should the opportunity arise, had nothing to say on the issue Friday.

Stuart Saunders, board chairman of the Norfolk & Western Railway, said he would have nothing to say at this time on whether he would attempt any settlement on his own.

Joseph Block, board chairman of Inland Steel Co. of Chicago; George M. Harrison, chief executive of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, and Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges are the other members.

Consumer Baffles Experts

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The consumer remains as hard for the experts to figure as ever. He buys when they think he should be saving his money for a rainy day and he refrains from going on a buying spree when they expect him to because of all the prosperity talk. On the other hand the consumer has given the auto industry two straight years of good sales. According to the text books that's most unlikely. On the other hand total retail sales, including car purchases, have dropped a bit for three straight months. By the rules—which the consumer apparently hasn't bothered to memorize—retail sales should have gone on rising, because the total of personal incomes has been climbing to consecutive record levels. With more money in their pockets many consumers have found something else to do with it than run down to the store or dealer. This is almost as hard for the experts to explain as the consumer's calm continuance of spending during the 1960 recession when he should have been frightened and retrenching. This unpredictable element is tough on the planners who would like to plot, and steer, a course for the economy. Also upsetting to them just now is that some of the seasonal patterns aren't being followed in other sections of the economy. The general outlook remains good, but some things are lagging when they should be advancing. One is the factory hiring rate. The Labor Department says this edged up to 39 per 1,000 employees in May from 38 in April. This increase is smaller than seasonal. The lag came when many industries were increasing production and most business statistics were taking on a much healthier glow. This helped drop the layoff rate to 14 per 1,000 employees from 16 in April. This was about in line with season trends. But many had hoped for a greater dip because of increased industrial activity.

Baby Gifts Pour in on Mrs. Kennedy

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Many Americans already are sending gifts and good wishes to Mrs. John F. Kennedy, who is expecting a third baby in late August. Baby booties, bibs, bonnets, sweaters and handmade quilts are often included in the daily mail at the White House, along with notes from many parts of the world. A White House spokesman says the letters even include offers to help take care of the new baby. And, the mail also brings name suggestions and requests to be godparents. Little girl's hope it will be a girl; boys vote for a boy. Some letter writers urge Mrs. Kennedy to have her new baby born in the White House itself. But she and the President, on advice of physicians, already have ruled that out and Mrs. Kennedy has a date the last week in August at Walter Reed Army Hospital here for a Caesarean delivery. The White House says Mrs. Kennedy's mail continues to run an average of 300 letters a day. About 450 of the letters received since announcement of her pregnancy concern the baby. About 100 gifts have been received so far. The White House said most of the gifts will go to charitable institutions. A spokesman noted it is White House policy that the First Lady accept only those gifts "worth under $15." A spokesman for the First Lady said everyone who writes Mrs. Kennedy gets an acknowledgment from the White House, but the answers may not be from her personally. Actually, Mrs. Kennedy only gets to see those letters which her staff think merit her special attention, the spokesman said.

Still Another Study for Railroads

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's factfinding committee goes to work today on a new study of the railroad labor dispute. Its object: To sift the facts in the four-year-old fight over new work rules and have a report ready for the President by July 20. The report will serve as the basis of legislative recommendations Kennedy plans to make to Congress July 22, a week before a trace expires for a threatened nationwide rail strike. Thursday night, a high government source said it is a fair conclusion that the legislation would involve some form of arbitration—the expectation in government circles since the dispute began building to a head. Members of the special panel haven't ruled out the possibility of playing a mediator's role if the opportunity arises. But the chairman, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, tends to the view that there is little likelihood of mediation by a panel member in the short time allotted for completion of the report. At a 60-minute organizational meeting Thursday, Wirtz emphasized there will be no attempt at mediation by the committee as a whole. As to the possibility that he or another member will act as a mediator, Wirtz' attitude is understood to be "let's wait and see." The railroads have agreed to postpone at least until July 29 changes in the manning of trains that will gradually eliminate some 65,000 jobs. Five operating unions representing 190,000 workers have pledged to withhold strike action until that date. By winning this reprieve Wednesday afternoon, Kennedy forestalled a strike that had been scheduled to begin at 12:01 a.m. Thursday. Wirtz is pictured as having a firm conviction that between July 22 and 29 it is possible to get legislation dealing with the situation through what is regarded as a reluctant Congress. At a news conference Thursday, House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana served notice that "Congress is not going to be stamped into any action that is not justified." However, Halleck added, this does not mean that Congress could not act expeditiously. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate Republican leader, who appeared with Halleck at the session with the press, said "there is no reason in the world" why the Senate Labor Committee should not start hearings at once to prepare for possible legislative action. Thursday's panel session, with four members and representatives of the carriers and unions present, concerned staff selections and which material should be assembled first for panel usage. Besides Wirtz, the members present were AFL-CIO President George Meany, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and Stuart Saunders, president of the Norfolk & Western Railway. George Harrison, an AFL-CIO president and president of the Railway and Steamship Clerks, is expected to join them today. The sixth member of the panel, Joseph Block, board chairman of Inland Steel Co. of Chicago, is on a western trip and isn't expected to be on hand. limbo. "I now operate out of an office downtown," said Zimbalist. "But the biggest change has been in the scripts," he added. "And that is why I am delighted with the new setup. The scripts we did during the first five years were garbage. They were simply awful. We would have shows with Louie holding up people with guns and solving mysteries. Louis is a good comedian. But that kind of plot was utterly ridiculous." Zimbalist is also pleased with the guest stars, who have included names like Joseph Cotten and Jo Van Fleet. There are indications that the series will be going on locations instead of being bound to the Burbank studio.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: CUBAN AGENTS: The State Department says it has made two attempts in recent weeks to get the British to bar use of Grand Cayman Island as a transfer point for subversives from Cuba. Press Officer Richard I. Phillips said the situation was taken up with the British June 7 and June 26. The United States contends the agents are flown to the small British-owned island south of Cuba and transferred to commercial airliners to go to other countries in the Western Hemisphere. In London, a British foreign office spokesman said, "We are discussing the matter with the Americans, but have not yet given them our reply." The State Department said some 20 potential subversives had been flown from Cuba to other countries via Grand Cayman Island. It said four of these had been picked up by authorities in El Salvador. EGGS: The Public Health Service says 775 persons in 25 states and the District of Columbia have been hit by salmonella derby—an intestinal infection—from eating cracked or unclean eggs. In issuing a warning against buying cracked eggs, it said the outbreak was first noted in a New York city last March and had since spread. The Public Health Service said it had defined the source of some of the cases but did not name it. It also did not name hospitals where patients had been treated for salmonella derby. A spokesman said the disease could produce gastroenteritis, upset stomach and diarrhea, with a fever in extreme cases. HELPING TEACHERS: A $2-million distress fund for teachers is being raised by the National Education Association. The drive was spurred by a dispute in Utah where teachers are boycotting public school spending settlement of a dispute with Gov. George Clyde could increase state appropriations for education. The dispute could throw 8,000-10,000 teachers out of work next fall. Although Utah is the only place where the fund may be needed now, the NEA said it would be at the disposal of teachers elsewhere should the need arise. The fund was authorized at a closed session of the NEA's board of directors in Detroit last week. Zimbalist Is Alone in 'Sunset' By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Efrem Zimbalist Jr., bereft of his buddies and even his office, was starting the sixth season of "77 Sunset Strip," a series for which he has expressed distaste. Yet he seemed genuinely delighted with his lot, which happens to be Warner Brothers. "I couldn't be happier," he remarked. The cause of his happiness appears to be Warner's Jack Webb Chosen new head of television programming. Webb worked fast to save "77 Sunset Strip," which had been marked for extinction. Webb's ideas for altering the series won a reprieve. The plan was bold. Swept out were all the regulars except Zimbalist—partner Roger Smith, teen favorite Edd Byrnes, comic Louis Quinn, receptionist Jacqueline Beer, cop Byron Keith. Even the detective agency next to Dino's restaurant lapsed into

DOROTHY DIX

IS SHE OR SOCIETY TO BLAME?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am treated as an outcast because—well, hear my story. I graduated from high school in 1962, one of the top 15 in my class and was voted the most popular girl of the year. My parents did not have the money to send me to college so I stayed home, got a job and turned in most of what I earned to help put my brothers and sisters through grade and high school, just as I'd been helped. It was no sacrifice for my home life was pleasant and—I had a best beau, the boy I'd dated since my senior year at high. It must have been the gaiety of our dates, not me, that he really cared about because he will have nothing to do with me now that he has fathered my child. I work, pay my own expenses and plan to return to the office again after the baby is born. My employers, a very fine man and his wife, are so understanding, far different from my mother, who says I should have done what hundreds of other girls do in our state—get rid of the baby. Should I give it up for adoption? I am 21 and, having gone this far, long to keep it and start all over on my ownaway from home. The father has been telling all of his friends about the baby and seems very proud of it even though he doesn't offer to pay the medical bills and I'm too proud to ask him. Do you suppose he'll ever change and act the way he did before all this happened? Why should I be treated as an outcast when my only sin was to love too well?—Desolate Dear Desolate: Let's consider your last question first—Why should you be treated as an outcast? In spite of the courage you have shown by "facing the music," remaining at home and on the job, society nevertheless still reacts unfavorably to childbirth out of wedlock. And please bear in mind also that many segments of our society still not only frown on illegitimacy, but carry their contempt to the innocent child. You evidently are strong enough to withstand such treatment. But is it fair to subject your child to it? You mention a new start away from home. This might soften the stigma but you must be realistic about the tremendous difficulties

Safe in Space, Lost on Train

LONDON (AP)—Britain's state-owned railway system has mislaid research equipment safely retrieved from space, a scientist complained Thursday. Dr. R. C. Jennison of the Loder Bank Observatory said the equipment was in a rocket fired from the Woomera Range in Australia June 5. The equipment was recovered, flown to London and handed to the state railway system for the 160-mile journey to Jodrell Bank. The consignment last was heard of June 12, Jennison said. barked, we called him "Naughty boy!" This failed so we resorted to old-fashioned spanking. This only made him more obstinate. In desperation, we tried bringing him with toys. And still he does as he, not we, please. My wife and I would greatly appreciate any tips on child-training. He's our first baby and we love him dearly but at this point feel very—Disgusted. Dear Disgusted: I'm always surprised when the eldest or only child in a family grows up to be even half way normal! Parents spend altogether too much time worrying over their and the child's every action and reaction. There may be some dissension among doctors in general, but pediatricians will all agree in their emphasis on one word, and that word is "Relax." They are wasting their breath, of course, when they actually utter this word to mothers of first-born. The most effective advice they can give is to try to make mothers realize that there is wide variation in child training success among children, especially boys. As Dr. Benjamin Spock, the famous pediatrician, counsels, "Go at it easily." The worst you can do is to go at his training so hard that you get him to hate the very idea. As in all other aspects of education, the child will cooperate and learn only when he, himself, is good and ready. Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. ## Galbraith Sad on Leaving India

TOP STORY—Traditionally, when the highest point of the construction of a building is reached, an evergreen tree is placed atop the structure. ## Washington and Moscow to Talk

MOSCOW (AP)—The "hot line" between Washington and Moscow may be ready for operation by Sept. 1.

Soviet Communications Minister Nikolai Pustovoy issued orders Wednesday for completion by that date of the cable link which Soviet technicians have started installing.

In Washington, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger wouldn't estimate a completion date for the emergency line between the White House and the Kremlin.

TRACKS

Here they are...our tracks. And there he is following in them. Daddy, every step you take leaves its mark. And eager young minds see them so clearly, and follow them so well. Why not take some steps toward church! Your son and your daughter will follow. His first impulse is to do just what you do...to walk in daddy's tracks. Notice how many farmers' boys farm, how many bankers' boys go into banking and how many preachers' sons enter the ministry. They are following you, daddy, even to the tone of your voice. If you want them to help build a good society, to know God...then take them to church and sit with them in the place of worship.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times.
